We have another fishing tale. Sorry to bore you couch potatoes, but this one is good! We were planning to drown a few worms one evening las week and hit the jackpot right off. A big ol' catfish got 'hold of our bait and we went round and round. We were on a jon boat, fishing with an eleven foot fiberglass pole, using six pound test line and #8 hooks. We won't bore you with every twist and run, but we won! But first we had to fight the fish a while, maneuver the boat to an open boat shed to borrow a landing net (we got it with the end of a boat paddle) and then netted the fish. He weighed in at nearly bout seven pounds close enough for us

We checked on things with the Elba band last week and heard some good news. There are around 90 students planning to be in the marching band next year when all the horns have been repaired and returned. Right now the big thing is trying to secure uniforms for the students. We hope that real fishermen to call it a seven pounder and hope the weight and measure but we would do it again today. See you at the lake.

Myrna Rhoades has taken on added responsibilities with Human Resources. She is now also a Community Resource Specialist for Coffee County. Right now she is concentrating on the Elba area, due to the flooding of March 17. We feel she will do a good job in this position.

There were a lot of people at a gathering of citizens in the courthouse Monday evening. Seventeen of the over one hundred present asked some questions or expressed opinions concerning the schools. The others were also interested and apparently came to listen. We salute the idea of citizens being interested. In fact there is plenty of need for interested and/or involved citizens in Elba, Coffee County, Alabama and in America. Right now Elba is our most pressing concern. The schools are always in need of volunteer help. There are a lot of needs around the hospital and nursing home. The proposed changing of control of the two back to the City presents a host of problems and city officials and hospital board members May 29, investigated the following are open to suggestions, both ideas and sweat. We have been quietly pro-incidents: Two thefts of property moting the development of an Adult Day Care Center in Elba and now one criminal mischief, and one as- THURSDAY, MAY 31 are bravely going public with our dream a lot of work is needed in sault. this area. We also need to promote Elba for a Free Enterprise Zone to entice industrial jobs - both new and expanded positions. We have recently received from state officials all the paperwork on this also. There is a plan for disorderly conduct and one for run to wreck on Co. Rd. 43 (5:12 being developed by a small group that would improve the face of downtown Elba. This will need work and time. Also we have a little information on a job training program. Classes could be held to train unemployed citizens for new jobs. It would pay the instructors and we think it would also pay some to the students. We are just getting started listing some of the golden opportunities challenging us today, but you get the message. If none of the above appeals to you, there are still Elba people who could use some help in recovering from the flood and mud.

Good news for folks concerned about the records in the courthouse. Courthouse officials have examined the records being cleaned in Texas and report that overall they are in good condition. In fact Judge Terry Butts and District Attorney Joel Folmar report that they don't feel a single case will be dismissed due to missing or damaged court records that were in the circuit clerk's office. That sounds great to us. Of course nothing on the second floor got wet and needed the cleaning so they are ready to hold court.

A statement made by Harry Jacobs does not appear as a question, but received the loudest of several applause. Jacobs acknowledged that he didn't always agree with the school board decisions, but felt that what was needed at this time was for the citizens to get behind the board members and support them in their actions concerning the Elba schools. Following the gathering of the questions, Superintendent Lamar Foley addressed the group and noted that he had not had a single call from any of the people in the group asking for answers to the questions voiced. Fo ley said he could answer most of the questions right there and would surey be prepared to answer them Thursday night. He stated that he had been Ever hear a complaint that is actually good news? Problems have always existed in the Recreation Department concerning a lack of fields, problems with umpires, rescheduling rained out games and uniforms. However, this summer a new complaint has arisen that is actually music to our ears. The complaint is about the lack of parking space at Hawkins-Williams park. The parking lot at Hawkins-Williams has always been big enough to handle the crowds, but this year more folks than ever are coming out to the ballgames and some folks are having a hard time finding somewhere to park. I know that it is a headache to ride around trying to find a place to park, but it also means the recreation program is successful and local folks are taking part!

CARDINALS FLYING HIGH IN DIXIE YOUTH BASEBALL

The Dixie Youth Baseball League season is nearing the homestretch and it looks like the Cardinals will be the team to beat as the season winds down. The Cards, under the direction of Ronnie Vaughan, have claimed eight wins in nine games to move atop the standings and have done so 6-2, Tigers 4-4, Yankees 4-5, Aswith quite a bit of fanfare. Che Vaughan has been one of the league's top tros 2-7 and Pirates 1-8. pitchers and hitters, while last week Rudy Free got 4 hits in two games, including two home-runs, and tossed a no-hitter that just missed being a perfect game. Other players have also come through, such as John Roberson, Clint Tindol, Jamie Holley, Randy Dodd, Forrest Hancock and Jason Jordan, making the Cardinals the league's top team! No one is going to concede the crown to the Cardinals and you can bet that the Mets and Tigers will have their say, as will the Yankees, Astros and Pirates. However, the title is there for the Cards to grab and someone will have to take it away, because this year looks like the year of the

Robert Bowden has been coaching youth baseball for more years than he likes to admit, and this year it has finally come back to haunt him, as a former player has returned as a coach and has his team tied with Bowden's with only three weeks left in the season.

The former player is Greg Hanchey, who played junior college baseball at L.B.W., and Hanchey must have learned well because he has taken a team picked to finish last and has turned it into a solid club that has a real

Is Bowden worried? He laughs when you ask him about the player teaching the old coach a lesson, but you know that while he is a little concerned for his team, he is proud to see a former pupil come back and suc-

BULLARD CATCHES ELUSIVE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

A year ago, Elba High graduate Heath Bullard was on the verge of greatness in Texas as his undefeated soccer team played in the state tournament with a state championship clearly in sight. An upset loss in the semifinals turned the dream of a state title into a nightmare; however, this season Bullard and his team decided that hard work and a state title would be the only thing that could make the hurt go away and the work paid off as Bullard led the Grapevine Mustangs to the state championship. I remember four years ago when Heath's mom told me that he was going to be the head soccer coach at a school in Texas. I told her that I knew the ball was round, like in baseball, but kidded her about how a boy from Elba, Alabama could possibly make it as a soccer coach. She had the last laugh; however, I have been a friend of Heath's since his family moved from Aberdeen, Mississippi, and share the excitement and satisfaction that he has to feel. Heath, all of Elba is proud of you, even
